

About UK Student Laptops

UKSL was originally set up to help students and young professionals find portable computing solutions, and all for a very competitive price.

Why go out and spend your limited loan money on a top branded £800 laptop when all you require is internet and office work. UKSL believes that you pay for what you get with computer systems and so a new £300 will not fulfill the users reliability & build quality requirements. Laptops we supply all had an average new retail value of £1000 and many of the laptops we sell could not have been purchased simply in a shop. Like many sports cars, our executive business notebooks were for business professionals only.

All our laptops are designed and built by business trusted manufacturers such as Compaq \ HP, Dell, Toshiba, IBM and Sony. These professional laptops are well suited to office and internet work as well as anything from Gaming to Video editing. Within a business; reliability, functionality and performance within IT are essential. This puts our Business laptops in a different league to conventional home use laptops. Some advantages of purchasing a laptop made by one of these manufacturers are; better design and build quality, much easier to source parts repair, all drivers available on manufacturer's website. These are business laptops designed to run day in, day out without fail. Whether you need a computer for sending a few emails wirelessly or for backing up your photographs on holiday - we have the laptop for you at unbelievably reduced prices. Not only do we offer our selection of laptops online, for many years we have been supplying laptops to the public at computer and trade-fairs around the country. We also supply the trade market, many computer shops in and around Birmingham use our range of laptops in their own retail sector. This is just another example of our below retail prices online.
